National landscaping award success for Adam Vetere Landscape & Garden Design

Berkshire-based Adam Vetere Landscape & Garden Design has been awarded a top accolade at the Association of Professional Landscapers (APL) Awards 2022, sponsored by Bradstone.

The company was awarded the APL Designer of the Year award, for their work on the project An Artists Garden.

The judges' commented, "A dynamic and interesting shaped garden. The attention to detail was superb and the workmanship was fantastic. It shows a great understanding of garden design."

The winners, announced at the awards event sponsored by Bradstone, held at The Brewery in London on Friday 18th March 2022, gained national recognition for their achievements and are a testament to the high calibre landscaping offered by APL members.

The awards, now in their 27th year, recognise and promote the very best in landscaping undertaken by APL members in categories that range from smaller projects, special features and soft landscaping to contracts of up to £500,000. The awards are a celebration of the high standards that have been achieved by members and demonstrate the APL's commitment to quality landscaping.

This year's judges were Richard Barnard from Hillier Landscapes (Chief judge), Rod Winrow from Garden House Design, Bob Sweet - ex RHS Head of Garden Judging, Robin Templar Williams from Robin Williams and Associates, Rupert Keys from Keyscape Design & Construction and Phil Tremayne - APL General Manager.
